This newspaper article contained a bit of information about Edward Knuth. On July 31, 1930, Willard Johnson was severely bitten on the head by a police dog, but is recovering ..... A severe wind storm struck the Augusta area doing much damage, lightning struck the William Albright home making a hole in the roof and nearly all the furnishings in the house were soaked with water ... Ed Knuth met with a painful accident when sawing a stick for his grader with a power saw and in picking off a small chip, his left hand was drawn into the saw and was badly mangled, resulting in the loss of his thumb and parts of fingers.

According to Roy Knuth, son of Edward and Augusta Knuth, they lived in Tribune, Sask., Canada for 6 years. Roy said he was a baby when they went to Canada, and he was 7 years old when they came back to the United States.

Just so everyone knows what type of man, my Uncle, Arthur Friedrich Knuth was, he gave me the best Christmas that I, his niece, Beverley (Knuth) Gorkowski remembers. When I was growing up in the small town of Fairchild, Wisconsin, my parents were very poor. I remember on Christmas eve, my parents telling my sister Patricia and myself that Santa would not be coming this particular year. We left the house and went to the church program, and when we came home there was a doll for my sister and one for me, a stroller, and a doll bed, under the Christmas tree. It was years later that I knew it was Uncle Art who was the Santa Claus that year. Years later, Uncle Art had a stroke and couldn't speak, but he came to the nursing home for my Dad's birthday party. After we had cake and ice cream, I asked Uncle Art if he wanted me to take him outside, so he could have a cigarette. He was all smiles. When we were outside the nursing home I told him the best Christmas I ever had and it was because of him. He COULdn't talk, but he smiled and the tears rolled down his face. Now as I type this, at almost 70 years of age, I still smile and the tears roll down my face.
